Yes! Solar Solutions™ Authorized to Begin Selling Franchises in California

With Uniform Franchise Offering Circular Approved by California Department of Corporations, Franchise Sales Begins

December 3, 2007 – Roseville, CA Yes! Solar, Inc. announced today that they have been authorized by the Department of Corporations for the state of California to begin selling franchises within the State. The company received notice that their Uniform Franchise Offering Circular (UFOC) became effective November 21, 2007. “This begins our process of deploying Yes! Solar Solutions™ franchises” said Jeff Winzeler, President, Yes! Solar, Inc. “We’re excited about the opportunity to contribute to the growth of solar power in the state of California, where the Governor currently has a program designed to place solar panels on a million roofs.”

Yes! Solar Solutions has taken an innovative approach to making solar power more accessible to homeowners and small business owners through retail energy outlets designed to educate consumers on the economic and environmental benefits and engage them with solutions that will help them reduce or eliminate their electricity costs. “We think the time is right for a network of strategically located retail outlets that are 100% dedicated to helping consumers reduce their annual energy expenses,” Winzeler points out. Yes! Solar Solutions opened their first company - owned energy outlet in Roseville

California on October 20, 2007. Since opening, the energy outlet has been marketing and hosting monthly educational seminars. In addition to showcasing Yes! solar systems, the outlet sells a variety of solar thematic retail products including cell phone chargers, education kits, books and solar system accessories.
